Mr. Andrew C. Zabriskie,

Dear Sir:

We thank you for your bids but we fear the following are too low. 414 weighs 8pwt 8grs and is worth in gold over $8. It should sell for $9 or $10. 115 weighs 3pwt 4grs. You will probably get it. 981 we find in putting into the envelopes has two obverse and 2 reverse, making four instead of six. 997 you will probably get.

Respectfully

Gentlemen:-

This Society having disposed of all the Prince Henry medals it has for sale, and the issue being strictly limited to three hundred impressions, it will be impossible to fill any more orders.

In regard to the matter of the boxes to replace those injured in transit, I would say that you might write to Mr. Victor D. Brenner, 125 East 23rd Street, New York City, and see if he can replace them. The Society has none.

Yours truly,

Charles C. Jacobs

Gentlemen:-

I have your letter of the 12th instant relating to the 1850 Baldwin & Comapny five dollar gold piece.

It is indeed a very rare coin, and I think a ten dollar piece of the same firm sold for over three hundred dollars recently at auction.

I do not possess the piece, but your price seems to me to be altogether too high.
